GeChic On-Lap 1305H Portable Monitor

GeChic, a world-leading company in portable display technology, has released its latest On-Lap 1305H 13.3-inch, Full HD HDMI portable monitor. On-Lap 1305H is mainly designed for travelers, business men and professionals to connect to their laptop, PC or any device with HDMI output, which only needs to use a single USB & HDMI cable to deliver both power and video signal.

Smart Foldable Cover Stand Props up Your Vision in Both Portrait and Landscape Mode Easily. Every 1305H monitor comes with a protective cover and the adjustable stand for different viewing angles in either portrait or landscape orientation. This innovative design allows users to switch the monitor from horizontal to vertical easily by only needing to rotate the monitor itself. No matter where the users at, bringing along the light 1305H for laptop as the second monitor to read the financial reports, spreadsheets or engineering codes in portrait mode; or for Mini PC as the primary monitor to read presentation slides or lecture drafts in landscape mode, which both can largely increase productivity and save the hassles of bringing lots of papers.

Single-Cable Solution with Real HDMI Video Signal Support. On-Lap 1305H uses a single “Proprietary HDMI-A and USB-A cable” to transmit both power and HDMI video signal. The brand-new connectivity of the 1305H gives users a neater work area and easier solutions for carrying the monitor outdoors. On-Lap 1305H is prepared for the modern devices which have HDMI output such as compute stick, Mini PC, smartphone, game console and Raspberry Pi.
